Santa Rosa Golf & Beach Club Announces Multi-Million-Dollar Course Renovation

Santa Rosa Beach, Fla. (April 4, 2019) - In celebration of its 50th anniversary, Santa Rosa Golf & Beach Club announces multi-million-dollar course renovation to break ground the first quarter of 2021. The club has selected Bergin Golf Designs to lead this milestone project.

Bergin Golf Designs is led by Bill Bergin, whose background in the golf industry is distinct. Bergin played the world's best golf courses as a touring professional, gained an understanding of club operations and the ability of the everyday player as a teaching professional, and acquired technical design experience under the guidance of noted designer Bob Cupp. Since founding Bergin Golf Designs in 1994, Bergin has combined his strategic instincts and design experience with a dedication to detail in project management. Bergin Golf Designs has been involved in the planning and design of over 70 golf course projects, including more than 50 under his own banner.

Once complete, Santa Rosa Golf & Beach Club's new design will be challenging for the most skilled golfers, yet fun and friendly for the recreational player. Greens complexes will offer a wide variety of options for recovery and boast ample playing areas. In addition, short game skills will be frequently on display.

Leading up to the renovation this summer, the club will be opening its new short game area. The short game area will complement the upcoming course renovation with a large green, two bunkers and the ability to hit both pitch and chip shots.
